Role: Fertility Nurse

The Fertility & Gynaecology Academy is a progressive boutique IVF clinic at the West End of London, committed to providing excellent individualised patient focused care. We are equipped with the latest technology and endeavour to provide the highest level of services with special interest in unfortunate patients with previous unsuccessful IVF treatment and recurrent miscarriage. We are a leading clinic in Reproductive Immunology in the UK and worldwide.

This is an exciting opportunity for an IVF Nurse to join our friendly team to offer the best possible care for our patients. There are excellent opportunities to learn about reproductive immunology and immune supportive therapy during IVF and pregnancy in addition to advanced clinical skills.

The responsibilities of the Fertility Nurse:

- Daily management of the clinical activities, supporting other nurses, clinicians and embryologists
- Nurse consultations, injection teaching, consent forms, theatre for egg collection and embryo transfer
- Continuous development and improvement of services including checklists and patients pathway and quality and risk assessment
- Audits and monitoring key performance indicators (KPIs)

Experience:

- RCN registered
- IVF trained is an advantage
- Conversant with the HFEA code of practice, CQC and nurses regulatory bodies policies and standards
- Time management skills
- Attention to details and accuracy
- Able to provide support to patients and colleagues
